HARRINGTON GETS THE FIRST.

Easily Captures the Event from Ferrier and Hardy Fox at Jerome.

(Special to The Evening World.)
RACE TRACK, JEROME PARK, Aug. 16.—This was the eighth day of the meeting of the American Jockey Club, and for the first time since the meeting began the weather was not fine. During the night a heavy rain visited the track, but this morning the sun came out strong and warm enough to dry it out to a large extent. Just before the racing began it clouded up again and for a time rain was threatened. The card was a very fair one and af-orded a good medium for speculation. The scratches were not heavy and a cood-sized crowd was present.

Melba was the only absentee in the ning ruce, a six furlong dash. Harwas a top-heavy favorite, with A number of all bets were made on Kentucky ly, at odds ranging from 200 to 50 to ady, at odds ranging from 200 to 50 to 1. The race was never in doubt, Harrington taking the lead soon after the start and holding it to the end, easily beating servier three parts of a length.

The second race resulted in a rattling nish between Tinge and Ella Reed, here two were always in front. Tinge arrying the field along. In the last the length end is the last the length of the last the length end was only beaten a length by Tinge.

RACE TRACK, SARATOGA, Aug. 16.this afternoon, returnable to-morrow, 11 o'clock before him, on behalf of Rus-offered at Saratoga, the second race being the only redeeming feature of the programme. Both stakes were uninteresting, inasmuch as they looked like gifts for certain horses.

The fifth contained horses that were ineligible, and it had to be declared off.
One, at a mile, for non-winners, was substituted, and this field failed to fill. Pinally, a selling affair, at five furiongs, was made up and a fair class of sprinters entered.

The weather clear and cool and the track fast.

Dave Boyle's filly My Favérite was the good thing in the opening event, and Pittsburg Phil burned up a lot of good money in backing her from 6 to 1 to 5 to 2. She led for half a mile, and then went all to pieces, finishing last.

Helict, the outsider, wen in a drive from Hollywood, who ruled favorite throughout. The latter was badly ridden. Doors Was third.

The winner of the second race turned up in Faraday, second choice, at 7 to 2. Martin naver made a move on him until the far turn was reached. Then he moved up, and, joining Victorious in the stretch, won by a length. Lehman, the favorite, was third.

The Bankers Stakes was an easy victorious of the many dermans of prominence.

Mr. Arnold charges the woman with sending him annoying letters which have caused him much trouble. The one upon which the complaint is based is June 23, and reads:

Mr. Arnold was in court with his counsel, Benjamin Steinhardt, of Howe & Hummel's office. The complaint only alleges the writing of one letter, but Justice Grady was informed of the contents of several others, and also that an additional charge of perjury would probably be made against her.

Mrs. Alten asked for an examination, and ball was fixed at $2,000, for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. She was unable to secure ball, and was locked up in the Tombs.

When seen in her cell, she told a pathetic story. She said:

She Claimed to Be a New York Actress, of "1492."

Said She Was Expecting C. E. Morton to Meet Her at Lowell.

(By Associated Press.)
LOWELL, Mass., Aug. 16.—Medical Examiner Irish was to-day notified that Miss Carrie E. Potter, aged about twenty-five, who claimed to be a New York actress, had been found dead in a oom at the Harris Hotel under suspicious circumstances. Miss Potter, who was a stranger here, came to the American House Monday norning about 8 o'clock. During the day her strange actions attracted much attention. She disappeared from the house Tuesday morning, and that after-noon registered at the Harris Hotel. Here she stated that she was a mem ber of the Rice Company, now playing "1492" in New York, and that she expected to be joined during the day by C. E. Morton, an actor in the company She acted very strangely, and created a

United States District Court Judge sensation by dancing before the mirror in the parlor. In the evening she left the hotel, but returned about 11 o'clock and retired. hotel employees broke into her room and found her dead on the bed. There was cut on her cheek and blood about the nose and mouth, which indicated that she died in great agony.

The police were notified, but the mat ter was kept quiet until to-day. A note addressed to C. E. Morton, saying, " cannot wait, as I am going to Concord." was found torn up on the floor. It is believed that the woman committed sui cide by taking strychnine.

Carrie E. Potter and C. E. Morton do not seem to be known among theatrical people in this city.

Ed Rice was seen at his office this afternoon by an "Evening World" reporter. He said that the only woman named Potter connected at any time with "1492" to his knowledge, was Violet Potter, of the "No. 1" company, whom he saw this morning.

She has a sister Mabel living in Forty-third street, who was also seen to-day. Potter, of the "No. 1" company, whom he saw this morning.

Mr. Rice does not know of any C. E. Morton, and no one could be found about the theatres, exchanges and hotels of upper Broadway who had heard of either of the people mentioned in the Lowell despatch.
